BLACK HISTORY MONTH EXTRAVAGANZA

A CONVERSATION WITH

DANNY GLOVER

ART, SOCIAL JUSTICE, & LIBERATION

Thursday, February 23, 2017
University of Delaware | Mitchell Hall
(Near the intersection of S. College Avenue and Amstel Avenue)
7:00 pm; Doors open at 6:15 pm

Free Admission with Online RSVP:
UD Community (Students, Faculty, Staff): http://bit.ly/udcbc (2 Per Person)
General Public (Opens February 13th): https://cbc-bhme.eventbrite.com (1 Per Person)

Actor and Humanitarian Danny Glover has been a leading presence on screen, stage and television for over 25 years. His film credits range from the blockbuster Lethal Weapon franchise, and Academy award-nominated and award-winning films, The Color Purple and Dreamgirls. Off screen, Glover has gained respect for his wide-reaching community activism and philanthropic efforts, with a particular emphasis on advocacy for economic justice, and access to health care and educational programs in the U.S. and Africa.

Mr. Glover trained at the Black Actors’ Workshop of the American Conservatory Theatre and attended San Francisco State University where he was a member of the Black Student Union. He will share his views on activism, past and present, and art and culture as vehicles for social change.

Presented by: Center for Black Culture, Black Student Union, Cultural Programming Advisory Board, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., with support from the Division of Student Life, Departments of Black American Studies and Theatre, Disability Support Services, Residence Life & Housing, and the Vice Provost for Diversity.

For general information and calendar updates, visit www.udel.edu/CBC/