Course Title: Hagley Does History!

Instructor:

Prerequisites: None

Materials: None

Come hear Hagley's experienced staff present some of the amazing stories of the past that can be found in Hagley's library, the largest business library in the United States. Researchers come from all over the USA and overseas to make use of Hagley's collections — now you can learn for yourself through talks by the librarians who are familiar with these materials. A class meeting will be held at Hagley to allow class participants to go behind the scenes and see the collections themselves.

Topics covered include:

1. Feb. 12: Erik Rau, New Year's "Calling": Creating a du Pont Family Tradition
2. Feb. 19: Lynn Catanese, Tom Lamb, the Handle Man (317)
3. Feb. 26: Lucas Clawson, Delaware as Border State during the Civil War (319)
4. March 5: Daniel Michelson, Protecting His Legacy: David Samoff and the Creation of the David Sarnoff Library (311)
5. March 12: Rachael Beyer, Work (and play) at the RCA Laboratories (330)
6. March 19: Andrew Engel, Picturing Kennett Pike (329)
8. April 9: Laurie Rizzo, Visualizing American Business: Audiovisual Confections at Hagley (277)
9. April 16: Max Moeller, Selling the Car: the Z. Taylor Vinson Trade Catalogues (226)
10. April 23: Alice Hanes, The Inside Scoop on Employee Newsletter (234)
11. April 30: Kevin Martin, Curating Bits and Bytes: Hale ’s Digital Collection (276)
12. May 7: Roger Horowitz, Telling the Story of Meat in America (244)
13. May 14: Tour of Hagley Library

All classes are Thursday 10:30-11:45 at Arsht Hall
Hagley phone: 302-658-2400