

Welcome New International Students and Scholars!

On behalf of the Office for International Students and Scholars I would like to invite you to visit our website (www.udel.edu/oiss) and view the important information provided for international students and scholars interested in attending the University of Delaware. There are approximately 2700 international students and scholars from over 100 countries currently attending the University of Delaware. Our goal is to enhance international spirit and diversity through our programs and services. We strive to achieve success in promoting international education in our academic community in order that our students, scholars and dependents have a successful and enjoyable stay in Newark!

Best wishes,
Susan C. Lee
