Meet Nataliya Naumova!

Nataliya is from Moscow, Russia, a place that has a very rich history and culture, as well as being an economic and political leader in the world. Moscow is the 6th largest city in the world. Nataliya is used to living in a very large city and really misses the craziness of Moscow!

At UD, Nataliya is in her first year of studies in the International Relations major. She is specializing in the economics of European countries. Nataliya also plans on applying for the Business administration minor.

Nataliya is also a proud member of the UD Varsity women’s tennis team. The tennis team competes in many tournaments throughout the East Coast. Nataliya also has teammates who are international students in our college! They also play games at UD South Campus too, so watch them in April and cheer on our international athletes!

In her early months at UD, Nataliya says that it was challenging to adapt to American culture, education, and speaking primarily in English. She thinks it is important to socialize with people in English as much as possible to improve language skills. Nataliya says, “Don’t think about your accent or about making grammar mistakes”. Thinking this way might prevent you from trying to communicate with others and making friends. Nataliya has found American students to be nice, responsive, and helpful, but she is usually the one to ask for help.

Favorite
Food: Steak and red wine
Movie: Gone with the Wind
TV: Watches world news or music videos
Literature: Eugene Onegin by Alexandr Pushkin (Russian Poetry)
Place to hang out: Tennis court

What’s Happening Around Campus?

- Journalist and author James Mann will speak on the topic “U.S. Power in Asia and the World” during a UD Global Agenda Speaker Series presentation on 3/20 at 7:30pm. Admission is FREE!

- Would you like to know more about research opportunities at UD? Check out the Undergraduate Research Program website. There is a Summer Fellowship program that provides funding for summer research for students in any field!

- Check out the "Common Threads: A History of Fashion through a Woman's Eyes" exhibit in the Old College West Gallery.

Reminders & Dates

- 3/22 - End of the FRESHMAN mid-term marking period. Be sure to check your grades in UDSIS!
- Spring break begins after classes on Friday 3/22. Check the dining hall hours during spring break here!

Summer and Fall semester registration is coming! Be sure to speak with your faculty advisor about the classes you should be taking next semester. Click here for more information about how your advisor can help you, and what you should do to get ready to meet with your advisor.

Would you like to be featured in the newsletter? Email ptsuzer@udel.edu

Do you have a suggestion for the newsletter? Email chatson@udel.edu