UDRF MISSION STATEMENT

The University of Delaware Research Foundation, Inc. (UDRF) is a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization for the support of fundamental research in all fields of science. Although an independent corporation, it is chartered primarily to support the University's research mission. In 1994, the UDRF Board of Trustees redefined its mission to focus on assisting only early-career permanent faculty as follows:

"The Mission of UDRF is to support the research mission of the University of Delaware in strengthening research and increasing national and international distinction of select graduate programs. In so doing, we will:

- Provide grants supporting the highest quality engineering and scientific research;
- Focus on assisting early-career, untenured, tenure-track faculty in areas of primary interest to the University, and
- Provide funds that supplement, but do not supplant, funds available from the University or other sources."

Eligibility:

ELIGIBILITY FOR UDRF GRANTS

UDRF will support high-quality engineering and scientific research projects by early-career, untenured, tenure-track faculty. Grants are primarily in the fields of engineering and the natural and physical sciences. However, any proposal that uses scientific methods and promises quantitative results is eligible for a grant regardless of academic focus or departments. Grants will not be awarded to tenured faculty. Previous recipients of UDRF grants are not eligible to apply for additional UDRF grant support at this time. Faculty may apply and receive both a UDRF and UDRF-SI grant. However, only one award may be received per calendar year.

PROPOSAL INFORMATION

PROJECT BUDGET -

The typical project budget is $35,000, of which $25,000 can be requested from the sponsor with an additional $5,000 each in match from the Provost and the respective College Dean. Special circumstances that warrant additional personnel may be addressed and larger budget amounts will be considered on rare occasions. Budget items may include up to one month of summer salary for the principal investigator, subject to the limitations described below. Other costs covered include graduate student or technical assistance, equipment, supplies, travel, etc. Support of graduate students is generally accorded higher priority than other budget categories. However, support of graduate student tuition is prohibited. There are no indirect costs associated with the UDRF awards.

The stipend for the principal investigator is limited to $5,000, or one-ninth of the academic year salary, whichever is less. Fringe benefits are not included for principal investigators with nine-month appointments but may be required for other salaries.

All budgets should be prepared with the understanding that budget changes exceeding 10% of the total award and re-budgeting of funds into categories not in the original budget (e.g., equipment, foreign travel) are subject to prior approval by the RO. Requests for re-budgeting must be submitted on the Request for Re-budgeting form.

PROJECT DURATION -

UDRF grants are awarded for up to two years, June 1 through May 31. The project period may be extended when circumstances warrant. Requests for no-cost extensions must be made in writing to the Research Office (research-udrf@udel.edu). Requests should include the reason for and the duration of the extension.

PROPOSAL COMPONENTS & FORMATTING -

All UDRF proposals require matching funds from the Principal Investigator's (PI) College and the Provost's Office. The Executive Summary should provide an overview of the scientific scope of the project and potential sources of future funding for the program. The program description should be clear to a reviewer with a technical/scientific background, but who may not be an expert in the field.

All attachments to the online application should be prepared using one-inch margins and Times New Roman - 11 point font. Proposals not adhering to this requirement will not be considered by the Research Committee of the UDRF.

AWARD ADMINISTRATION -

University of Delaware Research Foundation grants are awarded on the basis of eligibility and merit and administered by the UD Research Office. Proposals are screened for eligibility by the university and each proposal must have a match from the Dean of the College and the Provost. Evaluations of merit and award recommendations are made by the UDRF Research Committee, which is composed of engineers and scientists from the private sector in the area. The UDRF Board of Trustees makes the final award decisions at its annual meeting.

The university's patent, copyright, and publication policies, which can be found in the Handbook for Faculty (http://facultyhandbook.udel.edu/), apply to research conducted under a UDRF grant. Research conducted under a UDRF grant must comply with the University Research, Sponsored Programs, Technology Transfer and Intellectual Property Policies as found at http://sites.udel.edu/generalcounsel/policy-section/research-sponsored-program-technology-transfer-and-intellectual-property/.
Required Approvals: If proposed research includes involvement of human living subjects or private identifiable data, and/or the use of non-human vertebrate animals, the research protocol must be reviewed and approved by the Institutional Review Board (IRB), or the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) respectively prior to the expenditures of any UDRF funds.
