

BROWN BAG LUNCH SERIES, SPRING 2011

The Department of Black American Studies Brown Bag Lecture Series is happy to present the following speakers for spring semester 2011:

Monday, February 14: Co-presenters: Dr. Carol E. Henderson and Ms. Charlotte Marshall
"Principles of Ubuntu," Dr. Carol E. Henderson, Interim Chair, Black American Studies & Associate Professor, English, University of Delaware

"TRIOS & African-American Head Start Moms," Ms. Charlotte Marshall, doctoral student, Psychology, University of Delaware.

Tuesday, March 22: "Artist Depiction of Air Force Relief Mission to Haiti," Dr. Robyn Phillips Pendleton, Associate Professor, Art, University of Delaware.

Monday, April 11: "Cultural & Nutritional Connections Women Nursing Their Children Here & Abroad," Dr. Kelebogile (Lebo) Setiloane, Associate Professor, Behavior Health & Nutrition, University of Delaware.

Monday, May 9: "Sisters on a Mission (SOAM): African-American Breast Cancer Support Group in Wilmington, DE ," Ms. C. Darlene Shorter, President & Breast Cancer Survivor.

The Brown Bag Lecture Series entitled "The Art of Caring" is free and open to the public. It will be held from 12:15-1:10pm in room 206 of the Trabant University Center. Each lecture is about 30 minutes and is followed by open discussion. Participants are welcome to bring their lunch and enjoy this vibrant and stimulating exchange of ideas.

For more information on the series, please call the Black American Studies Department at (302) 831-2897.

Black American Studies
UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

