

BROWN BAG LUNCH SERIES—FALL 2012

The Department of Black American Studies "Brown Bag" Lecture Series is happy to present the following speakers for fall semester 2012:

Tuesday, October 23, 3:30-5:00pm in 111 Memorial Hall: "The 2012 Elections: Who Wins, Who Loses and Why It Matters," a dialogue with Ted Davis, Jr., Associate Professor, Political Science, and David Wilson, Associate Professor, Political Science and International Relations, both at University of Delaware.

Monday, November 12, 12:20-1:10pm in 203 Munroe Hall: "Ways of Seeing: Native Land Acts & Contemporary South Africa." Julie L. McGee, Curator of African American Art, University Museums, University of Delaware.

The "Brown Bag" Lecture Series is free and open to the public. Most lectures are about 30 minutes and is followed by open discussion. Participants are encouraged to come and enjoy this vibrant and stimulating exchange of ideas.

For more information on the series or any of our lectures, please call the Department of Black American Studies at (302) 831-2897.

Black American Studies
UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

