Akasha Hull holds a Ph.D. in English literature and has taught in various universities both nationally and internationally, including the University of Delaware from 1971 to 1988. Her publications include her powerful 1982 All the Women Are White, All the Men Are Black, But Some of Us Are Brave and her more recent Soul Talk: The Spirituality of African American Women. NEICY is the product of her many years of theorizing, teaching, and critiquing the lives and work of women, especially African American women.
