Associate in Arts Program – Wilmington

Adjunct Faculty Positions for Instructors of Mathematics

The Wilmington campus of the UD Associate in Arts Program (AAP) seeks qualified instructors to teach introductory statistics and foundational and intermediate mathematics for the Spring 2017 semester, which begins on February 6 and ends on May 25, 2017. At minimum, candidates should hold a Master’s degree in mathematics or mathematics education (Ph.D. preferred) and should have experience as primary instructors for courses at the levels noted above. Possibilities exist for successful candidates to teach adjunct courses in the 2017-18 academic year.

Additional information about mathematics courses offered by the AAP can be found here.
