Wearing gloves outside the lab can be a hazard to you and others. Remember to take off your gloves BEFORE you step outside the lab. If you use one gloved hand to carry chemicals, NEVER use that gloved hand to open doors.

“But I’m only working with…”

While shorts and flip-flops are great for the beach, they are NOT allowed in the laboratory. All individuals MUST wear proper lab attire when in the lab. If you are prone to forgetting, keep a pair of pants and shoes in your office.

Eye protection is REQUIRED in the Lab

Eye protection is the required minimum PPE in all labs on campus, regardless of building or department.

All eye and face protection must meet the ANSI Z87.1+ rating for safety.

Coming this Fall...

BI(OK)RAFT will be SciShield

www.phdcomics.com

Safe Science is Good Science!