Informational Release

Patrick Ogden, Chief of Police

University of Delaware Police Leadership Investment

Sergeants Michael Maier, Jeffrey Gates, and Peter Lenhoff are recent graduates of the Delaware State Police Leadership Development Program. The course is an intensive three week study of leadership principles which places a great deal of demand on the students. Officers are required to devote their time exclusively to the course in order to be considered for enrollment; this includes a mandatory orientation prior to participation which provides the officer with an understanding of the rigors, requirements, and expectations of the training.

Chief Patrick Ogden is thankful for the opportunity to send supervisors to the course, as he knows the benefit they receive from lessons learned will have an impact on the future development of the University of Delaware Police Department.

Community partnerships such as the one UD Police enjoys with the Delaware State Police are invaluable to the department's commitment to providing the best possible training and education to its officers.
