

CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH FEBRUARY & BEYOND 2012

Wednesday, February 15

AYANNA GREGORY

Roselle Center for the Arts, Gore Recital Hall

6:00 pm

Ayanna Gregory is a soul singer, educator, activist, and daughter of celebrated comedian and Human Rights Activist, Dick Gregory. She will perform her one woman show, Daughter of the Struggle.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Tickets required & available at UD Box Offices.

For more information, contact the Department of Black American Studies at 302-831-2897 or visit www.bams.udel.edu

Friday, February 24

BLACK HISTORY MONTH EXTRAVAGANZA: A Conversation with HILL HARPER

Trabant University Center, Multipurpose Rooms

6:00 pm; Doors Open at 5:30 pm

Hill Harper, has won admirers for his portrayal of "Dr. Sheldon Hawkes" on the hit drama series CSI: New York. He not only is an award-winning actor, but also a New York Times bestselling author. Harper's passion for his craft is surpassed only by his dedication to inspire America's youth. His talk will reveal how personal achievement, combined with helping others accomplish their goals, influences success.

Tickets required & available at UD Box Offices & Ticketmaster Outlets.

Valid UD ID - FREE (limit 2 tickets); General Public - $5

Saturday, February 25

THIRD ANNUAL BLACK LEADERSHIP SUMMIT: The REACH Project

Engaged Black Leadership in 2012: Activism, Organization and Empowerment

Howard S. Gittis Student Center, Temple University

Bus will depart the CBC at 8:00 am; Bus will return to the CBC at 5:30 pm

The Center for Black Culture will take a delegation of student leaders to the third Annual Black Leadership Summit. The summit will examine models of engaged leadership, and will also explore service-learning, student activism, mentoring, and family involvement. E-mail atiya@udel.edu by Feb. 17th to register for the Summit.

Monday, February 27

ANNUAL LOUIS L. REDDING LECTURE

Roselle Center for the Arts, Gore Recital Hall

4:00 pm

Linda Ammons is the Associate Provost and Dean at the Widener University School of Law. Ammons is the first woman and the first African American to lead Widener University School of Law. Her talk is entitled, "As the World Turns: Not the Soap Opera". FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

Tuesday, March 6

BLACK FACES IN WHITE PLACES:

10 GAME-CHANGING STRATEGIES TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS AND FIND GREATNESS

Mitchell Hall, Auditorium

6:30 pm; Doors Open at 6:00 pm

Randal Pinkett is the first African American winner of Donald Trump's reality show, The Apprentice, and CEO of BCT Partners, a multi-million dollar consulting firm. His most recent book, Black Faces in White Places is about - the game - the competitive world in which we all live and work, and the inevitable issues of race in the workplace and in society. In his talk, Pinkett will examine shattering the old "glass ceiling," and the four dimensions of the contemporary black experience: identity, society, meritocracy, and opportunity.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

Friday, March 16

AUGUST WILSON CENTER DANCE ENSEMBLE

Mitchell Hall, Auditorium

7:30 pm; Doors Open at 7:00 pm

The August Wilson Center Dance Ensemble brings the multicultural dance community together while keeping the black dance tradition at the forefront of the region's dance community.

Tickets required & available at UD Box Offices & Ticketmaster Outlets on FEBRUARY 13TH.

UD Students - FREE (limit 2 tickets); UD Faculty/Staff - $5; General Public - $7

For ticket information, call 302-831-4012. For general information and a complete list of program sponsors, visit www.udel.edu/CBC/ or contact the Center for Black Culture at 302-831-2991.